Message to the Reader

I used to spend so much time on these scouting reports but about half way through I had a talk with Blindsides, Yellz, and Dreece, and I decided that I am not going to go all out with the 250 page stuff I used to do. Of course this will still provide you with a TON of information but I purposely left some things in order to save myself a little time and to make you scout. So use this scouting report, have fun with it, and make your 2K experience as realistic and enjoyable as possible. I'm out!

Year 3

IN A NUTSHELL

Due to the fact that this scouting report is already extremely long and detailed, we will not be including the stories here. You can, however, find aall of our stories in one of two places: Here at TEC or Here at OS.

Last Year's Results

National Championship

---

Pittsburgh 72 – UAB 65

Wallace Sapp may have gotten all of the attention as the best prospect to come along in years, but Staples will be able to call himself a National Champion.... something Sapp will never be able to do. Staples dominated defensively as he has been known to do all throughout the season. Khalil Armstrong of UAB left his mark with a 23 point performance in the game, while freshman guard Elliot Richmond came up short after establishing himself as one of the top prospects returning next year. Congrats to the Panthers of Pittsburgh.

Last Year's Results

National Player of the Year

---

Forward – Wallace Sapp – Cincinnati – Freshman

Word around town was that Sapp could be the best prospect to hit the college scene in many years and he did not disappoint at all. He finished in the top 5 in points and rebounds and finished in the top 20 in the nation in blocks as well. While he did fall short in the tournament he did prove that he deserves to be the number one pick in next year's draft.

Last Year's Results

Defensive Player of the Year

---

Center – Emmanuel Rodriguez – Texas A&M – Senior

Wallace Sapp came close to getting a clean sweep of these awards but Rodriguez put a stop to that. The senior big man finished one of the most memorable four-year-careers that we have seen, dominating defensively the entire season. One can make the argument that Sapp earned this award, but no one can deny that Rodriguez earned this one.

Last Year's Results

NCAA Freshman of the Year

Forward – Wallace Sapp – Cincinnati – Freshman

Of course the national player of the year won this award but it is worth noting that this was one of the strongest batches of freshmen that we have seen in a while. Other top freshmen performances include Nyrie Staples from Pittsburgh, Chase DeMarco from Minnesota, Terrence Wright out of Louisville and one of the best pure point guards we have seen in LaKendrick Rice out of Oklahoma. All of these guys will be available for the draft and all of them appear to be top tier prospects.

There is actually a difference between my Big Boards and my mock drafts. The Big Board is a list of EVERY available player. The players listed may be coming out in this year's draft or returning to school but you will see them at some point. Use the big board to see where available prospects rank overall or to target a player that you may want in the future.

CWSAPP'S MOCK DRAFT

Of course, this won't be a "traditional" mock draft due to the fact that I can't discuss needs per team or the order of the draft since we will all have different situations. My mock draft will simply be based on talent and will include only the individuals that declared for the draft.

ANALYZING THE PROSPECTS

POINT GUARDS

POSITION GRADE: C

The point guard position is the weakest of all the positions of this draft. At the top is LaKendrick Rice who thinks he could be the next Gary Payton. I honestly feel like he can be even better. There is a HUGE drop off from there, though, with Anu Mashack from Kentucky being the number two guy, but our mock draft has him going late in the first round. He is an excellent ball handler but he is raw all around. Ashley Walker is an interesting prospect due to his ability to step in right away and play defense at a pretty high level. There are some solid guys here but outside of Rice there is nothing too special.

SHOOTING GUARDS

POSITION GRADE: A+

So many good players in this batch. We start with Nyrie Staples who looks like a lock to be a superstar but there is a lot outside of this young man as well. Joseph Taylor out of Virginia has a chance to be a superstar as well with his ability to score in a variety of different ways. Terrance Wright, Chase DeMarco, and Denzel Lee are all big time scorers that have the potential to be high profile starters in the league. In my opinion, this is easily the position with the most depth.

SMALL FORWARDS

POSITION GRADE: B+

This is another very strong group. At the top is Ki-Jana Monroe who is possibly the most athletic player that we have seen in over a decade. He isn't the best player right now, but his potential is sky-high and he is going to make a ton of SportsCenter Top Ten plays. Willie Nickles excites a lot of scouts because he plays basketball like it was played in the 90s. He is tough, he rebounds and he loves to play in the paint. Amancio Cortez from Spain is a name we have been hearing for a couple of years. He is also a big time athlete who may not be able to turn a team around himself, but could be the missing piece to potentially get a team over the hump. Aure' Edwards is another player that can step right in and help a team right away.

POWER FORWARDS

POSITION GRADE: A+

A very big part of that A+ grade comes from Wallace Sapp, the best prospect we have seen in a long time. He will step in as an immediate starter on just about any team, and many scouts believe that he will be the next “legend.” I agree with them. Sapp is not the only player in the power forward group. Nat Hawkins may be a little undersized but he is definitely the most skilled player at the position excluding Sapp and he is the best rebounder in the class. Vergil McAlister and Bryce Hassellhoff are also spectacular rebounders; Zlatko Jakupovic is a very strong reliable post scorer. We can't forget about Keenan Springs who has made it his duty to protect the paint. I really like this group.

CENTERS

POSITION GRADE: B

While the centers are not the strongest group, they do have a few players who everyone would love to get their hands on. Emmanuel Rodriguez stayed for four years even though he would have been a lottery pick the day he stepped foot on the Texas A&M campus. A reliable, smart defender who just took home DPOY honors, Rodriguez has developed his offensive game over the years as well. Robert Manning is another strong senior who excelled on the other side of the ball. At about 280 pounds he is definitely a bruiser who knows how to use his body. Javancy Jamison is spectacular when it comes to swatting the ball in to the stands and led the nation in blocks last year as a freshman. DeSean Bishop is a unique center who passes like a guard.

EVERYTHING ABOUT NOTHING

I know that sometimes I don't get the time to respond to all of your emails but it doesn't mean that I don't hear you guys. I know a lot of you have asked about a section that simply gives you some information about the players so I decided to do that this year. I know it is not as much as some of you might want but it should give you a little more information about the players and help you get to know them on a more personal level. Feedback is welcome.

- When asked about who the best player in the nation was, excluding himself, Cincinnati Freshman PF Wallace Sapp said that it is “between Nyrie Staples and Emmanuel Rodriguez.”
- Oklahoma Freshman PG LaKendrick Rice has stated that Gary Payton is his all time favorite player and that he plans to bring back the “gritty style of defense” to the NBA.

EVERYTHING ABOUT NOTHING

- UAB Senior PF Khalil Armstrong said that his freshman teammate PG Elliot Richmond will emerge as a top five prospect at some point.
- Minnesota Freshman SG Chase DeMarco said that Indiana sophomore SF Willie Nickels is “probably the toughest player that I have ever played against.”
- Santa Clara Senior PF Bryce Hassellhoff has stated that he would be pleased to be drafted by any team but would love to be drafted by the team that he has followed and loved since childhood.... the Golden State Warriors.

EVERYTHING ABOUT NOTHING

- When asked about who he considered the better prospect of Virginia Sophomore SG Joseph Taylor and Louisville Freshman SG Terrance Wright, Pittsburgh Freshman SG Nyrie Staples said, “It’s Taylor and I don’t even think it’s really that close.”
- Louisville Freshman SG Terrance Wright responded to the aforementioned statement by saying, “I don’t pay attention to that stuff. All I will say is that five years from now, everyone will be saying that I was clearly the best player in this draft.”

EVERYTHING ABOUT NOTHING

- Minnesota Freshman SG Chase DeMarco is the younger brother of former Minnesota SF Teddy DeMarco.
- Notre Dame Sophomore SF Connor Lucas claims that he was advised to return to school by former Notre Dame point guard Cole Campbell, who also went to school for four years.
- Sam Houston State Freshman SG Rick Blaze said that everyone told him to declare for the draft but didn't because "I'm just having too much fuckin' fun in college bruh."

EVERYTHING ABOUT NOTHING

- Arizona Junior SG Jahlil Jackson said about California Freshman SF Ki-Jana Monroe: “I have never seen anyone with that type of athleticism. Seriously, I have never seen anyone jump that high with such little effort. I know that [Wallace] Sapp is the best overall player but Monroe’s athleticism can not be touched by anybody in this draft... period.”
- When asked about who his favorite Tar Heel of all time is, North Carolina Junior PF Vergil Anderson said “It’s got to be Worthy for me. I’ve always felt like Jordan was a little overrated, but that’s just me.”
